July Bartender Spotlight

The bartender spotlight for July is someone I cannot say enough good things about. The turnover rate for bartenders in general is usually high, so when you find someone that genuinely enjoys their job and is terrific at it, you have found a true gem. And that person works at Cafe Lafitte in Exile. Aletha has been a staple at Lafitte's for as long as I can remember and she truly makes your drinking experience special.

She is attentive, friendly and sharp witted, everything you want in a bartender. She actually runs circles around many people there her junior. A bartender wears many hats when they work: confidant, tour guide, therapist, server and performer. Each person that steps into your bar is there with a different agenda and the mark of a good bartender is deciphering their needs and giving the customer what they want. But most of all, everyone who comes into your bar wants one thing - a good drink from a friendly server. Aletha embodies all those qualities.

She never waits for the customer to ask for the drink, she spots them and is ready to serve them when they walk up to the bar. That is what I call excellent customer service. Your patrons should never have to ask you for a drink, you affected by HIV and AIDS in Southeast Louisiana.

It's simple. Dine at one of the more than 60 restaurants participating, order your favorite culinary delights, sit back, relax and enjoy! At the end of the day, those participating restaurants will donate 25 percent of the daily proceeds to NO/AIDS Task Force.

Additionally, as the oil spill continues to affect the tourism and restaurant industries, Dining Out For Life is an opportunity to not only help out NO/AIDS Task Force, but also to give area restaurants a boost in the slow summer months.

The full list of restaurants is available at www.diningoutforlife.com, where you can find a wide variety of eateries that will cater to any taste or budget. Or see page 27 for a complete list of restaurants.
